

Production Roles Matching Sheet

Box Office	Lighting Crew	Publicity
Construction Crew	Lighting Designer	Set Designer
Costume Designer	Makeup Coordinator	Sound Designer
Director	Producer	Stage Crew
House Manager	Prop Designer	Stage Manager
House Staff	Prop Master	Technical Director

1. Technical Director Supervises the construction of sets, and the use of all lighting and sound equipment; responsible for the safety of the cast and crew
2. Producer Funds the production and designates a Director.
3. Publicity Responsible for advertising and promotion of the production
4. Director Responsible for the main vision of the production; interprets the script and the characters relationships; leads rehearsals and determines stage blocking.
5. Stage Manager Responsible for the running of the stage during production; cues lights, sounds, set and prop crew, and actors during the show.
6. Set Designer Works with the Director's vision to design and creation of sets.
7. Construction Crew Builds the set under the direction of the Set Designer
8. Sound Designer Works with the director's vision to find and create music and sound effects.
9. Lighting Designer Works with the director's vision to create the lighting "look" for each scene
10. Light Crew Under the direction of the light designer, hangs and focuses the lighting instruments
11. Costume Designer Works with the Director to design the clothing for the actors.
12. Stage Crew Moves the sets and scenery during rehearsals and the show.
13. Prop Designer Works in consultation with the Director to develop the necessary props for the show.
14. Makeup Coordinator Works in consultation with the Director to develop appropriate makeup for the actors.
15. Box Office Responsible for the sale of tickets and in coordination with the House Manager, the organization of seating.
16. House Staff Hands out programs, seats the audience
17. House Manager Responsible for the audience side of the curtain. They are responsible for the arrival, seating, and dispersal of audience.
18. Prop Master Responsible for organizing and placing props during the run of the show